

Cell phone use on an airplanes is a very bad idea. The close quarters of airplane travel is tough enough without someone near you speaking loudly into a cell phone. Please do not approve this. Credit card service phones are there for emergency use, which is sufficient.